ROADWORK - Reporting of Road Defects

I would like to remind residents of how they best report defects, in particular on State controlled roads in our region, namely;

- Williams - Kondinin Road
- Corrigin - Kulin Road
- Corrigin - Kondinin Road
- Kulin - Lake Grace Road
- Brookton Highway

Road defects and hazards can be reported by ringing 138 138 or emailing the Main Roads Wheatbelt Regional Office wheatbelt@mainroads.wa.gov.au.

Dogs wandering at large - Kulin Townsite

Residents are reminded of their obligations in relation to dog ownership. In particular, if you are in town and the dog is not contained in your backyard, it needs to be on a lead when out in public space. The Shire is continuing to receive reports of dogs wandering at large in town and in particular on occasions outside and adjacent to local shop premises.

It can be frightening for residents in particular for the elderly and children when faced with an unrestrained dog in a public place. The Shire has placed a number of reminders regarding the issue in Shire updates and will commence issuing infringements to offending dog owners for unrestrained dogs in a public place.

Shire Depot Improvement Project - Staff Amenities and Training Rooms

Over the coming month, the relocation of re-purposed classroom units purchase by the Shire will commence in Kulin. The ex-classroom units were secured from a school site in Southern River last year and transported to temporary storage in Kulin. The 5 sections will be re-located and sited onto Lots 290 and 291 Day Street, Kulin, which is part of expanded Reserve 23559 vested to the Shire of Kulin for the purpose of "Shire Purposes and Plant Depot". The repurposed building will include the following renovated components – staff room/kitchen, training and development room, toilets and amenities, designated staff parking.

It is anticipated relocation of the units will commence Tuesday 6th June 2023.

Motorized Mobility Scooters & Wheelchairs

General rules

If you use an electric wheelchair or electric scooter that doesn't go over 10km/h, you should follow the road rules for motorised wheelchairs in WA (which class you as a pedestrian).

So if your wheels can't exceed 10km/h, and you have a physical disability, the rules say you can ride on:

- Footpaths.
- Shared paths.
- The pedestrian section of a separated footpath.
- In shopping centres.
- In public places.

Remember to:

- Keep to the left of the footpath unless overtaking a pedestrian.
- Beware of vehicles reversing out of driveways.
- Show consideration of other pedestrians, particularly older people or those with a vision or hearing impairment.
- Travel no faster than surrounding pedestrians, they may not be able to move out of the way easily (for example in shopping centres).

You can only drive on the road if:

- There's no footpath or nature strip adjacent to the road that you can use.
- You keep as far as to the right-hand side of the road as you can (facing oncoming traffic).
- You don't travel side by side with more than one pedestrian, unless you're overtaking.
- You move off the road when cars approach and remain off the road until they pass.

SUPPORTING MS AUSTRALIA

KULIN DHS

THE MAY 50K

KULIN DHS WILL BE SUPPORTING OUR VERY OWN MRS ELLIS IN HER CHALLENGE TO LEAVE MS BEHIND!

In the month of May our students will be STRIVING to run/walk 50km in their class groups to fundraise for research into the prevention, treatment and finding a cure for Multiple Sclerosis.

Please support this event by seeking donations to support a cause close to our hearts. A sausage sizzle will be held on Friday 2nd June to celebrate and acknowledge the class who runs the longest distance and fundraises the highest amount.

DOLLY'S DREAM

“After Dolly left us, Kate and I could see that Dolly’s story had touched people everywhere and we felt the best way to remember our beautiful girl was to start a nationwide conversation about the devastating effects of bullying.”

Tick Everett

Dolly's Dream

Dolly's Dream was created by Kate and Tick Everett following the shattering loss of their 14-year-old daughter, Dolly, after ongoing bullying.

Kate and Tick's aim is to prevent other families having to walk this road and experiencing this devastation.

Dolly's Dream is committed to changing the culture of bullying by increasing understanding of the impact of bullying, anxiety, depression and youth suicide – and by providing support to parents.

Support Line

Support from a trained counsellor isn't cheap, and it's not always accessible, which is why we've partnered with Kids Helpline to offer free mental health support.

You don't need a referral, and the line is open to anyone who needs support.

Call 0488 881 033, anytime, for any reason.

Do It For Dolly Day is a day dedicated to bringing the community together, spreading kindness and uniting in helping break the silence around bullying.

Every year in May we see thousands of our wonderful community come together to remember Dolly, participate in fundraising activities to help support the important anti-bullying work we do and share the Dolly's Dream message to be kind and speak even if your voice shakes, and we can't wait to do it all again in 2023!

Bullying is a serious issue that affects children of all ages, and parents and carers must be aware of the signs and take action if their child is being bullied. Unfortunately, many children don't talk about bullying, making it difficult for parents and carers to help. Here are the top four reasons why children won't talk about bullying and how to overcome them.

1 – Fear of retaliation

One of the most common reasons why children don't talk about bullying is the fear of retaliation. They may worry that if they tell someone, the bullying will get worse, or that their bullies will target them even more. Children may also be afraid that the person that they tell will take extreme measures that will make the situation worse.

To overcome this, a parent or carer must create a safe space for their child to talk about their experiences. They can assure their child that they won't take drastic measures without their child's consent and will work with them to find a solution. The parent/carer can let their child know that they are able to support them by talking to the school in a calm & reasonable manner and allay the child's fears of the parent/carer doing something to make the situation worse.

2 – Embarrassment and shame

Children who are being bullied may feel ashamed or be embarrassed about what is happening to them. They may feel like they're at fault or that they're weak for not being able to handle the situation on their own. This can make it difficult for them to talk to their parent or carer, especially if they feel like they won't understand or will judge them.

A parent or carer can overcome this by creating an open and non-judgmental environment where their child feels comfortable talking about their feelings. They should also avoid blaming their child or making them feel like they're at fault. Instead, they should reassure their child that they're not alone and that they'll work together to find a solution.

Starting these conversations early is imperative- parents should talk to their children when they are young, and before any bullying starts. If they show their children from an early age that they can trust them, despite any embarrassment or shame, they will be much more likely to share their experiences when bullying starts.

3 – Lack of communication skills

Children may not talk about bullying because they lack the communication skills to express themselves. They may not know how to describe what is happening to them, or they may not have the words to express their feelings. This can be especially true for younger children who may not have the vocabulary or emotional maturity to articulate or even understand what is happening to them.

A parent or carer can overcome this by being patient and taking the time to listen to their child. They can also ask open-ended questions to encourage their child to talk about their experiences such as "what happened next?" or "how did that make you feel?"

Parents and carers can also teach their child how to express themselves by modelling good communication skills and practicing active listening. This includes not interrupting with questions or comments and managing their own strong emotions such as anger or disappointment which may make a child feel rushed or anxious about upsetting their parent or carer.

Parents and carers can also talk to their children about healthy friendships and what constitutes being "a friend" so that children can develop a sense of what is safe and appropriate with their peers. They can also call out both positive and negative behaviours when reading a story together or when watching a TV show to help their child identify some of the different bullying styles including emotional manipulation (e.g. isolating, ghosting), social exclusion and spreading rumours.

4 – Lack of Trust

Children who have been bullied might not trust adults, particularly if they have been let down before. They might believe that telling someone won't make a difference or that the adults won't take them seriously.

To overcome this, parents and carers need to build a strong relationship with their children, based on trust and open communication. It's essential to listen to the child and validate their feelings, even if they don't agree with them. They should also let their child know that they are there for them and that they will take action to stop the bullying.

Bullying is a serious issue that affects children of all ages. Unfortunately, many children don't talk about bullying, making it difficult for parents and carers to help. By creating a safe space, avoiding blame, and practicing good communication skills, they can overcome the top four reasons why children don't talk about bullying and help their child find a solution. Remember, it's essential to take action if you suspect your child is being bullied.

If you are concerned about a child or young person being bullied, please seek help. Speak to a trusted GP, school wellbeing staff, or a helpline such as:

WOOLSHED COLLECTIVE

MELISSAH REES

To the Kulin community and surrounding, I highly suggest you pop into the new business in town, the Woolshed Collective.

On the 12th of May, I made my way down to the grand opening of the Woolshed Collective where I got to meet owner Mel Rees.

We welcome Mel, Owen and their two kids Archie and Finley into our beautiful town, Kulin. Originally from Kalgoorlie, the family made the move to Perth WA. After living the city life for some time, they took the chance to travel for 1 year. Making their way around Australia, they spent their longest period of 8 months in WA.

A question that Mel has been asked many times was 'How did you end up in Kulin?' 'Australia is beautiful, we were kind of travelling to see where we could settle down.' 'We loved the Wheatbelt and Kulin just happened to be the place for us.'

Do you hope to stay in Kulin for a while?

Mel's short answer - yes. Archie and Finley are currently in primary school and Mel and Owen would love to raise their kids in Kulin. They love the community and opportunities that have arisen for themselves.

How did you come up with your business name?

While there were many names to choose from, Woolshed Collective really just stood out.

Why did you want to start your own business?

Mel stated that she was teaching for 11 years and has always worked in retail, so starting her own business just always felt like something she needed to do.

Why did you want to start your business in Kulin?

"Opportunity" The closest clothing store ranges from 50km - 110km so having one in Kulin just seemed like an opportunity she could't miss.

It is so good to see our small town expanding and I hope to see all of you heading down to the Woolshed Collective. It is just amazing to see what you can do if you put your mind to it.

Please make sure to check out the Woolshed Collective's Instagram page 'woolshed_collective'.

Reconciliation WA

The dates for NRW are the same each year; 27 May to 3 June.

The theme for NRW this year is 'Be a Voice for Generations'. Reconciliation WA's mission this year is for 1 million people to join their 'Virtual Breakfast'.

The Virtual Breakfast will take place on the 25th of May at 8:00am AWST. You can register at bit.ly/NRW-2023

What is reconciliation?

At its heart, reconciliation is about strengthening relationships between Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and non-Indigenous peoples, for the benefit of all Australians.

National Reconciliation Week (NRW) is a time for all Australians to learn about our shared histories, cultures, and achievements, and to explore how each of us can contribute to achieving reconciliation in Australia.

Damper recipe- Doris Getta

Ingredients-

2 cups self-raising flour, 1 cup plain flour, water

1. Mix flour together in a bowl
2. Add water to create a dough and knead thoroughly
3. Flatten out into an oval shape then place in an oven at 250 degrees
4. After 15 minutes turn the damper over and cook for another 10 minutes
5. When done, take out of the oven and wrap in a damp tea towel
6. Ready to serve with butter, jam, honey, or even vegemite

Lemon Myrtle Cake- Marissa Verma

Ingredients- 125g butter, chopped, $\frac{3}{4}$ cup caster sugar, 1 tsp vanilla essence, 2 eggs, 2 cups self-raising flour, $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk, 1 tbs lemon myrtle powdered spice

1. Preheat oven to 180 degrees, lightly grease a 20cm round cake pan. Line base with baking paper

2. Beat butter, sugar and vanilla in a bowl using an electric mixer until pale and creamy
3. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition, scraping down sides of bowl. Lightly fold flour into creamed mixture alternating with milk, beginning and ending on flour.
4. Add lemon myrtle in with cake mixture. Spoon mixture into prepared pan.
5. To make the vanilla icing, sift icing sugar into a bowl, add butter, water and vanilla. Add a little lemon myrtle, beat with a wooden spoon until smooth.
6. Bake cake for 40-45 minutes, when cooled, spread icing over it.

SENIORS MOVIE DAY

Tuesday | 13.06.2023 | 11:00am-1:00pm

Free Event | Coffee and Tea Provided | Kulin CRC Chambers

A married couple suffers a hardship, leading Jack to head off to deal with his grief while Lilly remains in the "real" world, dealing with her own guilt. As if Lilly's troubles weren't bad enough, a starling that has nested in her backyard begins to harass and attack her and she becomes comically obsessed with killing it. Lilly eventually finds guidance from Larry, a quirky psychologist-turned-veterinarian with a troubled past of his own. The two form a unique and unlikely friendship as they each help the other to explore, acknowledge and confront their problems.

'ADOPT A TIN HORSE' PROJECT

Kulin locals, we need you!!

Some of the horses on our Tin Horse Highway are looking a bit shabby!

We are calling out to any locals who can spare a small amount of time to 'adopt a horse' and give it some TLC.

We can all pitch in to help maintain our wonderful Kulin tourist attraction and open air art gallery.

WHAT DOES IT INVOLVE?

Whatever is required to spruce up your new baby. Mostly it will involve a lick of paint and perhaps some minor repairs. Nothing too strenuous! Just do it at your own pace and when it suits you.

All paint will be supplied by the Kulin Bush Races.

HOW CAN YOU ADOPT?

You can adopt a horse on your own, with your family or between a few friends. It'll be a fun little project to work on together!!

Chat to Wendy if you can help. She can assign you to a tin horse or if you have a specific one that you would like to look after then just let her know.

VISITOR FEEDBACK

We write to say a huge thanks to the Council for the wonderful facilities that you offer to stay in your beautiful town. Although we only stayed one night (last night) at the amazing caravan park, it was really pleasing to see that we could have overnighted at the RV free area (which would be our norm as we are self contained).

We choose the pay option and got to meet some fellow travelers and hear of some great local attractions, a bonus! The cleanliness of the park is such a high standard and we send our thanks to your hardworking crew.

Having the facilities allowed us to spend our $s in your town, from money spent on groceries at the IGA to coffee and some treats at the coffee shop, we will need to come back and have a pub meal next time and bring the grandkids to play on the amazing playground.

You have set the bar very high and only wish that our home state of Queensland would adopt your model.

Regards

Leigh and Martyn Budd
