Welcome back to another edition of the Kulin Update.

Winter sports have now completed three rounds, so the season is definitely in full swing. Results for round 2 and 3 are later in this edition, along with current ladders.

ANZAC Day has just passed, with the school and community services held at the War Memorial. Thank you to all those attended, and to all those involved in helping in the lead up.

The Shire / CRC has started a 'Jobs Board' initiative. If you / your business / workplace have a career opportunity open, send us the info and we can include this in our regular posts and newsletter.

The 'After a Crash' workshop is coming up on May 30th. This is a great 3 hour workshop that aims to teach skills that can be used to support someone or themselves in dealing with the emotional outcomes of car crashes in small communities.

Another upcoming event is a digital literacy workshop being held by NBN. More information about this will be out soon.

On the 23rd of April we held our monthly Seniors' Movie Day at the CRC, with a great turnout. It was a big week for seniors, as the following day was the Seniors' Morning Tea.

With a fabulous turnout, and amazing catering, it was a very fun and also informative event for all. We really appreciate all the feedback that we receive from the community, and while some things are more long term actions, having intel into how we can better help all demographics in our community is always valuable.

Shire staff enjoy the open sessions where we can provide everyone some great information about current happenings and take questions and queries from the community.

The Price Street section of the pathway network has now been complete, with more pathway upgrades to come. We ask the community to refrain from parking on any footpaths as the obstruction for pedestrians and others users may mean them being on the road or uneven surfaces trying to pass the car. Feel free to contact the Shire if you have concerns about continued offenders.

If you don't already, make sure you follow Shire of Kulin and Community Resource Centre on Facebook. It is the most recent and most frequently updated avenue to find information about current happenings or news about the Shire.

We have a photographer coming on the 3rd of May to finish up our photographer project. Julie Kenny is an incredible photographer, and we can't wait to be able to use and share the images she takes. To be able to see some of the photos as we share them, be sure to follow VisitKulin on Facebook and Instagram.

As always we welcome your input into any courses, events and initiatives the CRC can offer in the community. Don't hesitate to get in touch.

SENIORS MORNING TEA

It was wonderful to have so many of our senior community come and join Shire staff and Councillors for morning tea.

One concern brought to our attention is vehicles parking on footpaths, which can damage them, and obstruct people using the paths. Please do not park on footpaths as it hinders users' ability to safely move around town.

CWA

The CWA of Kulin will be celebrating their 95th Birthday this year on the 19th of October and would like to ask the community and anyone who has been involved if you have any information or photos if you could provide us with copies as we have misplaced a lot of records over the years.

I am also chasing the Presidents, Secretaries and Treasurers for the Years from 1935 to 1951
Please email Sharon Barndon

CWA Decades Timeline Featured Image

1920's - Establishing CWA of WA
The first West Australian regional branch of the Country Women's Association (CWA) of WA was set up in Nungarin, in July 1924 and it is still operating today, followed by quickly followed by Metropolitan, Bolgart and Benjaberring.

1930's - Compassionate hearts during Great Depression

The Depression years had a disastrous impact on primary industries, creating poverty in rural regions. CWA of WA provided relief to struggling families through fundraising and in-kind donations.

1940's - The War Effort

World War II demanded significant levels of fundraising and service by CWA of WA for servicemen on-the-front and families on the land. It also gave way to female representation on national committees

1950's - Population Growth in metropolitan and regional centres
WA faced a decline of rural farming families, who moved to metropolitan and regional centres. This was partly caused by farming mechanisation and an increase of car ownership and sealed roads.

1960's - Vision of a Memorial for Pioneering Women of Western Australia

The Pioneer Women's Memorial at Kings Park opened in 1968, following six years of vision, planning and significant fundraising by the CWA of WA.

1970's - Support for vulnerable citizens

CWA of WA advocacy for the vulnerable continued, launching education programs for aboriginals, building residential units for older Australians and purchasing education vehicles for rural schools.

1990's - Encouraging education and professional skills in the regions
CWA of WA launched Youth Leadership courses 1996, aimed to develop friends, confidence and skills of teamwork, over-coming challenges and leadership of like-minded youth.

2000's - Administration support for national aid continues

State and Federal Governments have repeatedly connected with CWA of WA for opinion, advice, administration skills and the gift of time, during times of emergency and distress.

2010's - Advocacy continues for the regions

CWA rallied on the steps of Parliament House, in possibly the most public display of historical support, to overturn Government decisions that were negatively impacting rural families.

This years Anzac Day service was a beautiful Autumn morning allowing our community and visitors to commemorate Anzac Day.

Cr Jarron Noble was the MC for the service and began with his opening welcome.

“Today, along with Australians everywhere, we gather to remember those who have served to defend Australia. We do this because it is the anniversary of the day when Australian and New Zealand soldiers landed on the beach at Gallipoli in Türkiye on 25 April 1915. This was the first major military campaign for soldiers from Australia and New Zealand. Since then, 25 April has been known as Anzac Day.

At Gallipoli, Australians and New Zealanders served with soldiers from other nations, including England, France and India. The Australians at Gallipoli came from all sorts of backgrounds, but they shared the terrible experience of war. Ever since then, for more than a hundred years, the men and women in our navy, army and air force have honoured the memory of our original Anzacs.

Towards the end of the ceremony, the Last Post will be played. This historical music was played in army camps to announce the end of the day, a time when soldiers should be resting. The Last Post is played today for those who have made the ultimate sacrifice. It means that they have done their duty and are now at rest. After the Last Post, there will be one minute of silence. This is a time to think about those who have served in Australia’s armed forces, those who continue to serve, and about those who have lost their lives.”

Freeman Jim Sullivan gave the commemorative speech. Thank you for sharing your words with us.

“Let us never forget our Anzacs, who under shocking, circumstances, forged a bond of mateship, a proud respect for their fellow servicemen, a determination to do all for their country, Lest We Forget.

ANZAC, an acronym, meaning, Australian New Zealand Army Corp. Mateship, courage, respect, honour. Anzacs remembered, today respected.

I wish to relate a story of one of these young men, a WW1 Infantry soldier. Christie Walter Alliston Jones 27th Infantry Battalion, enlisted 6th April 1916. Sailed from Adelaide to Southampton on the “Afric,” arriving in Southampton on the 24th of July 1916, from there he proceeded to join his unit on the 11th August 1916. Reported missing presumed dead on the 17th of November 1916. The following letter was received from the Red Cross Society, following an inquiry by an elder sister.

The letter as follows-
Dear Madam

Re 1656a PTE CW Jones 27th Battalion

Since making your inquiry, we note you have been notified, the above soldier was killed in action on the 5th of November. However, our commissioners have sent the following report, from a comrade,as follows.

PTE FR Sparrow1709, and we thought you would like to have the news.

“Jones belonged to, A Company. On the left of Flers, we made an attack and were pushed back, I saw him wounded and lying in NO Man’s Land, having been hit by a bullet, he must have died shortly after. We regret we have not been able to obtain more particulars for you, might we offer you our sincere sympathy in your loss.

Lest we forget. Whilst we will never forget Christie’s story, or the stories of other service men, we today must be aware of the silent Anzacs.

The silent Anzacs are with us today. The young Navy engineer, 3 young sons, joined up, full of energy, willing, able, educated, a career, his country, injured in a conflict, discharged, his life ahead. NO, his career gone, now three teenage sons, his life a mess, drinking every night, nightmares, rehab, cannot pursue his career, or talent, cannot deal with today.

The young pretty nurse, a qualified sister, tending the wounded from conflicts, captured, tortured, career over, motherhood not for her now.

The Army boy, dad of a bouncy four year old, off to East Timor, conflict, what he experienced messed with his head, home discharged, career over, his beautiful son now 28, Dad a mess, no ability to live in today’s society, no son, no marriage no control of his bodily functions.

Let us not forget these young men and women today serving. These young Anzacs in our modern day still serve our country, in the prime of their lives living in our streets, our towns, our cities, our country, their country, giving their youth to this country, so we can come together to pay our respect on the 25th April. They suffer silently, their ailments have many names, they do not seek. Sympathy, we do not know their stories, but we can thank them they need awareness, help and consideration. We thank the mothers, fathers and families sharing the load, do not let us forget the Silent Anzacs.

To all those who have served our nation, their sacrifice is why Australia has the freedom we all enjoy today, and why we have our sovereignty.

Kulin is to be congratulated on its initiative for allowing the Camp Hart Memorial and rest area facility to be constructed. A place where Anzacs can go for rest and fellowship in their times of need. Congratulations Kulin, thank you.

At the going down of the sun and in the morning, we will remember them.

Lest we forget”

Thank you to Janet Colbourne and Meggs Gibson for their readings and to Sergeant Andy Dunn and Senior Constable Barry Osborne for raising the flags during the playing of The Rouse. Also a special thanks to Ronan Doust for taking care of the music for the service.

Thank you to the Kulin CWA for hosting morning tea.

KULIN HARDWARE

Since the Battery Recycling Unit has been at the Kulin Hardware, we, as a town have recycled 125kg of battery waste and avoided landfill. Only 10 per cent of lithium-ion batteries in Australia were recycled in 2021, likely due to low collection rates. As there is currently no national recycling scheme, the batteries are stored and forgotten or discarded. A 2018 report by CSIRO estimated that most lithium-ion batteries end up in landfill.

INTRODUCING

Jobs board

To better support the economic development of Kulin, we will be introducing a 'job board'.

We will put up fortnightly posts of all employment opportunities currently available in the Shire on our social media accounts, as well as our website. This will make it easier for not only those seeking a job to find all current openings in one place, but also for businesses to advertise. This can include farm positions, casual/ full / part time positions, in and out of town roles, and more.

If you have an opening, please send details to rcmgr@kulin.wa.gov.au

Kondinin Town Hall

Kulin Childcare Centre

We have been following our ocean theme the past 2 weeks which has brought much colour into our day, especially our craft activities. Our after-school children are pictured here using water colour and pipettes to paint sea animals. It's great for younger children to watch older children create art with finer motor skills as it inspires them. Playdough has been out again as we love how it supports children to learn so many new skills, creating, fine motor, scissors. The themed playdough mats supported the children's creativity when making their sea creatures on this day.

Our Educators are always on the lookout for self-directed play or themes of interest which they can scaffold the children's learning from. Construction with Lego blocks is great for supporting problem solving skills, it also gives children the ability to use their imagination skills to create houses, enclosures, or towers practising spatial awareness.

Pictured above is an example of our Educators supporting children directed play by creating a track for them to move the trucks along. This allows them to re-imagine their game and learn new skills. In this setting the schema of trajectory is at play, this allows the children to explore different outcomes of the truck - balance, steering, veering, fast, slow etc.

The children have loved our freshly painted storage shed and having the ability to paint a vast space with no limits. During this play they are practising crossing the midline and strengthening their hand and arm muscles. The shed is always hosed fresh for another day.

Foam blocks provide children with the opportunity to lift and move larger improving their muscle strength and gross motor. When children play using these blocks they often work as a team achieve an outcome (tower). This provides a great opportunity for them to practise their communication and teamwork as they achieve a goal. They also provide children with the ability to build a chair and take a minute to relax or practise big body movement rolling and jumping. Thank you from KCCC team for the second donation of seedlings to our centre and our recycled materials received this past fortnight. We wish Shelbi all the best for her and Zach's next adventure north and beyond it has been an amazing time having you at our centre, we feel so lucky!

ANZAC DAY

An IMPOSSIBLE Brain Teaser

This brain teaser is really not impossible, but it is tricky! Carefully read the directions in each line to make changes in the previous set of letters. Write the new letters in the blank after each instruction. The first two are completed for you.

1. Start with IMPOSSIBLE. IMPOSSIBLE
  2. Change the second vowel from the left to E. IMPESSIBLE
  3. If occurrence is spelled correctly, change the 2nd consonant to H. If it is not spelled correctly, change the last consonant to T. _____
  4. Omit the letters, in order, that spell MESS. _____
  5. Insert CABBAGE after the 1st vowel. _____
  6. Change the 2nd i to A. _____
  7. Move the first vowel so that is directly to the right of the 4th consonant. _____
  8. If mischievous is spelled correctly, omit the first two letters. If it is spelled incorrectly, omit the double consonants. _____
  9. Change the G to V. _____
  10. Switch the places of the 2nd consonant and the 3rd consonant. _____
  11. If occasionally is spelled correctly, omit the 2nd letter. If it is spelled incorrectly, add IN after the first letter. _____
  12. Switch the order of the 1st and 2nd letters. _____
  13. If your letters now form a correctly-spelled word, write them in the blank below. If not, review the directions to find any possible errors.
- Solving this brain teaser is not IMPOSSIBLE. It is _____!

Which Day is International Mother's Day?

Australia is one of the countries that celebrates Mother's Day on International Mother's Day (aka the second Sunday of May). International Mother's Day isn't really international because many countries choose to celebrate Mother's Day (or an equivalent holiday) on other days of the year that hold more religious or cultural significance to them.

International Mother's Day is different from International Women's Day – which is held annually on March 8th.

Why do Mother's Day dates differ between Australia and other countries?

Mother's Day originally started in the U.S. in the early 1900s – though there have been celebrations for mothers for thousands of years now. Mother's Day is always held on the same date in many countries, including Australia.

Some countries celebrate Mother's Day on Mothering Sunday (the Fourth Sunday, exactly three weeks prior to Easter Sunday). This year, Mothering Sunday will fall on Sunday, the 19th of March.

How do Australians celebrate Mother's Day?

As a child, you probably started Mother's Day by making Mum some slightly charred pancakes and delivering them to her with a goofy smile and a lukewarm coffee. Adult Mother's Day traditions generally include better food. BBQs, brunch at a swanky cafe, gourmet picnics in the park, or a Mother's Day hamper are all common ways to celebrate your beloved mother.

Gift-giving is also an incredibly important part of the Mother's Day holiday. Traditional Mother's Day gifts include chocolates, candles, pamper hampers, pyjamas, and flowers. The traditional Mother's Day flower is Red Carnations. However, because Australia's Mother's Day date is in Autumn and Red Carnations are a spring flower, most people give White Chrysanthemums instead.

Giving gifts on Mother's Day gained popularity after 1924. That year, Sydney woman Janet Heyden took it upon herself to collect charitable gifts for lonely mothers in Newington Hospital who lost husbands and/or sons during World War 1.

Is Mother's Day a public holiday in Australia?

Unfortunately, Mother's Day isn't an official public holiday in Australia. It's very widely celebrated and a national holiday, however, and most Australians observe the holiday in some way.

Do the shops open on Mother's Day? Yes, most Australian businesses are open on Mother's Day – though some small businesses do restrict their opening hours or close entirely.

When was Mother's Day introduced in Australia?

The first Mother's Day in Australia was held in 1910. This initial celebration was mostly limited to special church services. However, by the 1920s, many Australians had started celebrating mothers on Mother's Day.

Where does Mother's Day come from? (the history of Mother's Day)

Mother's Day as we know it today all started with an initiative from Anna Jarvis in the early 20th Century. Jarvis started her Mother's Day campaign in 1905 in the U.S. – the same year her own mother, Ann, died.

Ann Jarvis was a peace activist who looked after wounded soldiers in the American Civil War. Ann also started a work club she named the "Mother's Day Work Clubs" to speak out against public health issues. Anna Jarvis wanted to honour her Mother and continue the work she had spent her lifetime undertaking. She decided that it was only fair to set aside a day for celebrating mothers because she believed a mother is "the person who has done more for you than anyone in the world." Originally, she called Mother's Day "Mothers Friendship Day".

The first modern Mother's Day was celebrated in 1908 when Jarvis held a remembrance day for her own mother at St Andrew's Methodist Church (in Grafton, West Virginia). This church now holds the International Mother's Day Shrine.

Anna Jarvis also founded the Mother's Day International Association. All along, her intention with Mother's Day was to get people to celebrate the mother figure in their life (rather than celebrating motherhood as a whole).

In 1914, U.S. President Woodrow Wilson was the person who made the Mother's Day holiday official (this year also marked the U.S.'s first official Mother's Day). The rest is history.

Celebrating Mother's Day is a fairly new pastime, but celebrations honouring mothers have been held for thousands of years. Some notable examples include:

Christian Mothering Sunday (originally a commemoration of the Mother Church, not motherhood directly)

The festivals held in ancient Greece to honour mother goddesses Cybele and Rhea

The Roman Festival of Hilaria Fun things to do on Mother's Day in Australia

The number one best way to celebrate Mother's Day is to spend time with your Mum (and that's how many families already spend Mother's Day).

Feedback

Tin Horse Highway - this would have to be the most entertaining drive in the whole of Aus! There are plenty of spots to pull over so you can stop and take photos of the horses too! We absolutely loved this!

Wow is all I can say about this beautiful town. It's amazing. The children here are so lucky to have the facilities - lol I wish I was a kid again! The whole town is so tidy, clean and fresh looking. The RV stop is great and you've got everything you need. The Hotel is friendly and food was great. Thanks so much Kulin. If we travel this way again we shall return. High praise to you all.

Butlers Garage - If you love a little history don't miss the opportunity to wander through this great little museum. Every piece has a story and Clarrie being a generational farmer of the district knows many of them. Both he and Pam were very generous and giving of their time.
